THE SEASONS SOCIAL EVENT

Brilliant June Wedding in
This City at High Noon
Today.

Miss Louise Mauzy is Married to Charles A. Schroth of San Francisco.

The social event of the season occurred today in the marriage of Miss Louise Hillyer Mauzy, popular June bride, to Mr. Charles Albert Schroth, of San Francisco.

It was a sweet pea wedding and the colors, pink and white, predominated. In the reception hall and back parlor were decorations of asparagus and pink and white carnations, and the dining room was in similar and sweet peas of the prevailing colors. Pink ribbon streamers were draped from the corners of the dining room to the chandelier overhanging the bride's table. The chandelier itself was a mass of smilax, daintily interspersed with sweet pea blossoms. In the center of the table was a French basket of the same flower in the favorite color. Four side tables were arranged in sweet pea decorations for the bridesmaids. The place cards at each of the tables were very artistic, the water color design was a flower and face in delicate colors. The work was done by Miss Henrietta Coleman and presented to the bride.

The front parlor, where the wedding ceremony occurred, was very pretty in decorations of asparagus and sweet peas. In the bay window at the front of the room was an arch of asparagus, banked on either side with palms and ferns. In the center was the wedding bell of pink sweet peas with five pink ribbon streamers.

As Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played by Schnurr's orchestra, of Columbus, the wedding party descended the stairs and entered the front parlor. The procession was led by the bride's pastor, Rev. T. H. McConnell, who performed the ceremony. Then came the bridesmaids, Misses Henrietta Coleman, Mae Bebout, Edith Hiner, Elsie Clark and Nannie Hogsett, who were dressed in white summer gowns. These were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Lydia Mauzy, the bride's sister, whose gown was pink net over pink silk. The groom was accompanied by his best man, Mr. Chase Mauzy. Following came the bride with her father, who gave her away. The bride wore an elegant gown, white point lace over net, over white satin, and a veil which for half a century has been an heirloom in the family. Her veil was held by a diamond sunburst pin, the gift of the groom, and she carried a shower of white sweetpeas with smilax and white ribbon.

During the ceremony, "Oh Promise Me," was played by the orchestra. The ring service was used, and after the ceremony the bridesmaids, by means of the ribbon streamers of the wedding bell, showered the sweet peas. The bridal dinner was served in three courses, and souvenirs of the event were given—wedding cake in small white boxes with gilt engraving of Mauzy-Schroth and the date.

About forty-five guests were present. Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Byron Mauzy, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mauzy, from Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shearman, of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kennedy, of Shelbyville; Mrs. Lydia McMahan and daughter, Miss Anna, of Indianapolis; Mrs. McCormick, of Natchez, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Clark, of Shelbyville; Mr. and Mrs. Karmire, of Shelbyville; Ray Deprez, of Shelbyville; Russell Williams, of Shelbyville; Chester Morrison, of Shelbyville; Miss Mae Magee, of Greensburg; Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, of Greensburg, and Frank Donnell, of Greensburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Schroth received a very large number of elegant gifts. Among them a bed room suit from the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. Mauzy and sister, Miss Lydia Mauzy; cut glass cream and sugar set and bon-bon dish with a large mirror, from Mr. and Mrs. Lon Mauzy; a

W. McCormick; a lace piece from Mrs. Alfred A. Watkins; a Parisian ivory fan from Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy and daughter, Miss Gowdy; a dust pocket from Mrs. Appleton; a lace handkerchief from Mrs. Harriet Sparks; a burnt wood monk from Master John Delano Shearman; a silver pie knife from Edwin Megee.

Mr. and Mrs. Schroth left on the 2:30 for New York, where they will spend two weeks at the Waldorf-Astoria. They will return to this city for a short visit before going to San Francisco, where they will be at home about the middle of July.

EPWORTH LEAGUE AT SHELBYVILLE

The First Day's Session of the Connersville District Meeting.

The fifteenth annual conference of the Epworth Leagues of the Connersville district began Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Shelbyville. One and one-half hours were devoted to prayer and social service, led by the Rev. William Telfer.

In the afternoon Bible study was discussed by the Rev. James Brown. The department of Mercy and Help, in charge of Mrs. McClung, then took charge of the meeting. The Rev. B. D. Beck and Mrs. McClung made addresses, and these were followed by discussion. C. N. Simms spoke on "Our New Hospital."

The Junior department was in charge of Florence Hamper. There was a talk by the Rev. E. M. Chambers on "Is the Junior League a Necessity?" This was followed by exercises by the Junior leagues of Shelbyville. The afternoon session ended with a talk on "The Great Need of Junior Superintendents," by the Rev. G. Jones. The second session is being held today.

OF INTEREST TO PATRONS

Some Facts About the Troublesome Rural Mail Box Question.

The Government is Utterly Indifferent to the Style of Mail Box Used.

The following dispatch from Washington clearly explains the Postoffice Department's position on the rural mail box question, and we commend it to patrons as the facts in the matter: The Postoffice department has recently been receiving complaints from patrons of its rural free delivery routes all over the country, protesting against the refusal of the carriers to deposit or to collect mail from boxes which the farmers have made themselves, and the complaint is very general that the government is attempting to compel the farmers to buy expensive mail boxes, made by favored contractors. Some of the complaints have not hesitated to intimate their suspicion of "graft" of some kind involved in the sale of these letter boxes.

As a matter of fact, the government is utterly indifferent as to the style or the maker of the box used by patrons of the rural routes, but it insists on certain specifications. The box must not be less than 18x6 inches, if it is rectangular, and if cylindrical, not less than 18 long and 6 inches in diameter, and it must be made of standard gauge sheet iron or of sheet steel. Every box must be provided with an adjustable, durable metallic signal which will indicate whether or not there is mail in the box. These requirements are insisted upon by the government, simply because it holds itself responsible for the mail when deposited in the box by the carrier or when awaiting its collection by him.

It was stated at the department that every farmer is at entire liberty to manufacture his own box, provided he makes it along lines of the specifications, and after making it sends it to the postoffice department for approval.

Indeed, to facilitate the manufacture of home-made boxes, the department will permit farmers in States at great distance from Washington to send their boxes to the nearest division inspector, so that the cost of freight or express may be reduced to a minimum.

It has been figured out that no box made by an individual farmer or by a local tinsmith will cost less than one dollar or a dollar and a half by the time it has been sent on to the proper authority for approval. At the same time the farmer is enabled to buy a box at any figure that his purse will warrant. The government will furnish any patron or prospective patron of a rural route a list of 180 boxes, together with the names of the makers, the place of manufacture and the cost, and as the cost of these boxes range from 65 cents up to $3.50, it is assumed, by the government that every farmer will find it cheaper to buy such a box than go to the trouble and expense of making one himself. But, as stated, there is no objection to a home-made box if it comes fully up to the requirements made by the Government to insure the safety of the mail.

CONNERSVILLE WILL PLAY LOCALS

A Series of Games Will be Arranged—Twelve Games With Greensburg.

The management of the Connersville base ball team has consented to play Rushville a series of six or eight games during August or September. Twelve games have also been booked with Greensburg. This bit of news will, no doubt, satisfy the fans, who want something good in a base ball way.

ROOSEVELT'S CABIN

It Will be Seen at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

The log cabin in which President Roosevelt lived for three years while he was a rancher has been placed in the Agriculture building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition as a part of the State of North Dakota's exhibit. The cabin was taken apart and the pieces numbered, so that it could be put together again exactly as it was when the President lived in it as a cowboy. It was in 1883 that Mr. Roosevelt went to North Dakota and purchased the Maltese Cross ranch, a place on the Little Missouri river, eight miles south of the town of Medora. On taking possession Mr. Roosevelt changed the name to Chimney Butte, on account of a chimney shaped butte a short distance away. The rough cabin which he bought with the ranch was the future President's home for nearly three years, and in it he lived the life of the cowboy.

PEACEFULLY DISSOLVED.

Norway Has Cut Loose From the Union With Sweden. King Protests.

Special to the Republican

Christiania, Norway, June 7.—The Norwegian Storting today declared the union between Norway and Sweden under one king dissolved and 'King Oscar has ceased to act as King of Norway. An address to the king, which was adopted by the Storting (Norwegian parliament) declared that no ill-feeling was entertained against his dynasty or the Swedish nation, and asked him to co-operate in the selection of a young prince of the house of Bernadotte to occupy the throne of Norway.

Stockholm, Sweden, June 7.—King Oscar sent a telegram to Premier Michelsen as follows: "I have received the communication of the Council of State and record a most decided protest against the method and action of the government."

The action of the Norwegian Storting is the outcome of a dissatisfaction that has existed between the neighboring nations of Norway and Sweden for some time and consequently the withdrawal of Norway from the Scandinavian union is no surprise. Just what measures King Oscar and the Swedish government will take and whether the dissolution will end peacefully awaits to be seen.

THE DECISION IS REVERSED

Appellate Court Hands Down Different Finding in Case of I. & C. vs. Shepherd.

The appellate court has reversed the decision of the Rush circuit court in the condemnation case of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company vs. Shepherd. The decision follows: "The open and close was properly given to the landowner in a condemnation proceeding where the sole matter in controversy was the amount of damages, as he has the burden of that issue. (2) A landowner who has testified as to the value of the land sought to be 'appropriated' may be cross-examined as to how much he paid for the tract of which it is a part, and how much he received for a portion of such tract upon a recent sale thereof."

The case was appealed sometime ago from the decision of the appraisers. The jury in the court here awarded the defendant $400.

A CHANGE IN POLICY

The Backbone of the Powerful Russian War Party is Broken.

The Opening of Peace Negotiations Will be Confided to President Roosevelt.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—Beyond the statement that the advisability of confiding the opening of peace negotiations to President Roosevelt in the event that Emperor Nicholas shall have decided that the time has arrived to indicate to Japan Russia's desire to end the struggle, was presented in a favorable light, no definite announcement can be made regarding the result of Foreign Minister Lamsdorff's audience with the emperor on the subject of Count Cassini's dispatch communicating the president's practical tender of good offices. It can, however, be stated in addition that Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovich, the emperor's brother-in-law, who undoubtedly exercises a greater personal influence with his majesty than any other member of the imperial family, and who until the disaster to the Russian fleet was the most uncompromising advocate of war to the last ditch, has joined Grand Duke Vladimir, uncle of the emperor, counselling the conclusion of peace.

Grand Duke Vladimir at a recent family council, while urging the futility of continuing the struggle, stoutly maintained that the loss of Manchuria and even of a portion of eastern Siberia would not mean the ruin of Russia's prestige, but that she could continue to grow in influence and power just as Great Britain did after the loss of her American colonies.

Another important convert made by the advocates of peace is Admiral Alexieff. With Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovich, Grand Duke Vladimir and Admiral Alexieff on the side of peace, the backbone of what has been denominated the war party seems to have been broken. Nevertheless, the final word rests with the emperor himself.

CITY COUNCIL FAILS TO MEET

Unable to Get Quorum—Wrangle Over Election of School Trustee.

The city council held no meeting Tuesday night. But four members of the council were present. These were Messrs. Smith, Dale, Purcell and Meredith. Mr. Smith, it is said, became angered and left. This left but three members and as they did not make a quorum, council was unable to do any business and was forced to adjourn.

Before the regular meeting was called to order a short caucus was held concerning the election of a school trustee to succeed Allen R. Holden, whose term has expired. Mr. Holden has been serving out the unexpired term of Walter Campbell and the election of his successor was to have been held last night. Mr. Holden was a candidate for re-election. Council was unable to reach an agreement and Mr. Smith left the room.

Messrs. Caldwell and Brann also found it impossible to be present.

STUBBORN FACTS

A Few Showing Why Some Towns Are Dead Ones.

The following, clipped from an exchange, contains some stubborn facts that cannot be denied: "A town that never has anything to do in a public way, is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from business to give to city affairs is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from any public enterprise throws bouquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy and selfish as to be howling hard times, preaches the funeral and sings the doxology, and thus the town lies buried, free from all sorrow and care."

A CLEVER FEMALE "DIP" ARRESTED

Hetty Green, the Queen of Pickpockets Held up a Man in Shelbyville.

Hetty Green, one of the most accomplished pickpockets in the country, was returned to Shelbyville Tuesday afternoon. She was arrested in Indianapolis on request by the Shelbyville police force.

She is the woman whom it is alleged held up and robbed Thomas Shanlin of $40 last Saturday night.

The prisoner is a light complexioned colored girl. She seems to be an octogenarian. She says she is a creole, which means that there is no negro blood in her veins. Dressed in silk with a traveling garment and a touch of rouge and powder she looked anything but a negro. When interviewed at the jail she said: "I've been instructed by my attorney to say nothing to police or newspaper men." Then she shut up like a clam.

At this juncture the police came along with the man whom she had robbed. He peeked through the bars and after close scrutiny exclaimed:

"That's her! That's the gal that talked to me an' tuck my money. Shure thing. That isn't no guess 'bout it. She's it."

"She's a wonder," said Thomas Shanlin, the man who was robbed. "She came up to me like she had known me all my life, threw her arms 'bout me an' I was half way skeered. The first thing I knew her hand was in my pocket. I was certain she couldn't take out my pocket-book 'tithout my knowin' it. Shurely she didn't. Wallet was still there. Then she flew across the street, seen 'er feller stan' ahind er a tree when she was er talkin' ter me, but 'didn't pay no 'tention t' him while she was talkin'. She jest said so many things on sho't they ye cu'ln't keep trek oy' em. She was in a hurry t' git erway from th' feller. I seed that an' gin her a chance. Then's when the funny thing came."

Here he stopped. The story resolves into the fact that the most accomplished "dip" in the country has been captured, as "Hetty Green" compares with Minnie Daly, the world-renowned diamond "biter."

WHEAT HARVEST WILL BE EARLY

A local grain dealer said that wheat harvest would commence about the middle of June if wheat continued to ripen at its present rate. The wheat has been looking good for some time and it looks better now than ever.

Some of it is backward, but for the most part the crop will be a great deal earlier than usual. In a number of places in this county wheat harvest will commence by the middle of June unless there is more wet weather than the farmers are looking for.

WHAT HICKS HAS FOR JUNE

In the Way of Weather For the Present Month—Several Storms.

The Reverend Prophit Has Some Big Electrical Displays on Tap.

Hicks' prediction for June is as follows: The 3d, 4th and 5th are central reactionary storm dates, with cloudiness and increasing precipitation. From the 3d to 5th, inclusive these conditions will pass progressively over the country west to east, causing rains and thunder storms. The storm period extending from the 7th to the 12th, promises to bring some of the most general and severe disturbances of the month.

From the 10th to the 15th is an annual period of maximum electrical and magnetic excitement. Earth currents, seismic and volcanic disturbances, great thunderstorms and downpours of rain, as a rule, reach a crisis about this time. Such results should not surprise any of our readers about the 9th to 13th. Great warmth, attended by high humidity and very low barometer, will be warnings of probable danger that none can afford to despise or neglect.

The next storm period extends from the 20th to 24th and is central on the 21st, the central day of the summer solstice period. This period will bring very high temperature low barometer and threatening storms. Thunderstorm and squalls at this time have a surprising way of doubling back and slipping up from easterly directions, striking the unwary on the "blind side" and coming in at the backdoor generally.

On the 24th and 25th in every probability thunderstorms, June showers and electrical unrest will continue into the reactionary storm period, central on the 26th, 27th and 28th. It will be very natural, but as a rule dangerous, for electrical clouds to flash and blaze all through the nights at this part of the June solstice.

If heavy rains and storms occur at the beginning of the Mars period, say from the 10th the 15th, the same may be expected to continue at the reactionary period, 26th to 28th, and at the storm periods through much of July.

TRIED SUICIDE BY DISEMBOWLING

The Terrible Methods Used by a Darke County, Ohio Farmer.

Sylvester Didier, a well-known Darke county, Ohio, farmer residing near Frenchtown, undertook to end his existence one day last week in a horrible manner.

Mr. Didier has been sick for a couple of weeks. His suspicious actions caused the members of his family to suspect that he had suicidal intentions and they kept a close watch on all his movements, but in spite of their alertness he fooled them and on Wednesday evening he slipped from the house.

After he had been missed the family instituted a search for him and half an hour later he was found in the middle of a large clover field. The method he adopted to end his life was horrible. Didier was found sitting on the ground frantically endeavoring to disembowel himself by pulling his intestines through a hole he had slashed in his abdomen. Upon discovering him two men in the party took him to the house where he lingered in horrible agony for several hours. During all of his efforts to cause death by this horrible method not a cry or moan was made by the man.

IS IT RACE SUICIDE?

Indiana's School Enumeration Shows
a Falling Off.

Indianapolis, June 7.—There may be such a thing as race suicide in Indiana, as the school enumeration for 1905, which has been received at the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, Fasset A. Cotton, shows that in sixty of the ninety-two counties there was a decrease in the number of school children. The total decrease in these counties is 410. The total enumeration was 768,432. If there is a such a thing as race suicide in Indiana the report would indicate that it exists in the rural communities, which show the greater decrease in the number of school children. The total decrease outside the cities was approximately 8,000, while the increase of the cities was nearly that much. The report also indicates that the gas belt, which enjoyed such a tremendous growth, is now losing in population, as in Madison county alone in which Anderson, Alexandria and Elwood are located, there was a decrease of 800, which is probably due to the removal of many factories on account of the failure of gas. There are 15,562 colored school children as compared to 15,408 in 1904. There are over 20,000 more male school children than female.

The fact that there are still a few whiteappers in Indiana was brought to mind today when the appellate court severely scored whitecapping, Judge Roby declaring that the assumption of power to regulate individual conduct through the medium of clubs, whips and picket stabs is a very dangerous assumption. The opinion of the court was that the judgment in favor of the defendants in Joseph M. Britton's suit for damages in Greene county should be reversed and another trial was ordered. Britton was white-capped at Newark, Greene county, several months ago. He kept a drug store which became a meeting place for boys and men from the surrounding country. The unpopularity of the store is supposed to have been the cause of the whitecapping. After many complaints were registered by the villagers a crowd of masked men took Britton from his store and whipped him severely. During the whipping not a soul ventured from the nineteen houses in the village to help him, and during his illness not a neighbor called. In reversing the decision the appellate court held that even in the village of Newark it is difficult to stop just at the place to please all of the nineteen families, and that he would be a very bold man who should venture to join the community, taking chances of popular disapproval based upon facts beyond his control and emphasized by penalties so arbitrary and severe. The law, it concluded, furnishes a standard of conduct and ample remedy for lawlessness.

It is possible there will be no capital punishment in Indiana during Governor Hanly's administration. He has not given an intimation to that effect, but it was learned today that he has written to the governors of other states for statistics bearing on conditions existing with and without capital punishment. The governor is not an advocate of capital punishment. It is said that he is not inclined to believe in it at all, either as a punishment for crime or a deterrent. It is understood, however, that he wants to get reliable information from every section before he takes a definite stand. He is especially anxious to find out if there is more or less crime in the states where capital punishment is in vogue and if conditions have grown better or worse in the states where it has been abolished. During the recent session of the legislature Representative Condo of Marion introduced two bills looking to the abolishment of capital punishment, but they were defeated. They secured enough votes, however, to show that there is a strong sentiment in favor of doing away with executions.

In Trouble With Uncle Sam.
Butte, Mont., June 7.—United States officers raided the office of the Montana Mining, Loan and Investment company here, arrested Daniel B. Jacobs, the secretary and treasurer, on a charge of violating the United States postal laws in maintaining a lottery, and secured about 50,000 numbered tickets and a list of agents in the United States and Canada. The concern is incorporated for $12,000,000.

Auto Scared the Horse.
Portland, Ind., June 7.—Mrs. Ira Porter of New Pittsburg is in a serious condition, the result of a runaway accident caused by her horse taking fright at an automobile. She was thrown against a picket fence and dragged for some distance. Her clothing was stripped from her body and she was badly cut about the breast, arms and face.

Indiana Man Slain.
New Albany, Ind., June 7.—The body of Everett O'Connor of this city, who was shot and killed at Cincinnati by Simon Knabb of that city, is now at the home of his father, Patrick O'Connor, who did not learn of the killing until a few hours before the body arrived.

Equitable Directors Resign.
New York, June 7.—Three more directors have resigned from the board of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and at least one more will resign today, making in all ten resignations since the present troubles of the society began.

Shot on Sight.
Jasonville, Ind., June 7.—Edward Thomas shot and seriously wounded A. Deitch, his employer, mistaking him for a burglar. Mr. Deitch went to Thomas' home with the intention of spending the night and, finding him absent, he laid down on the veranda to await his coming. Mr. Thomas did not return until 1 o'clock a. m., and hearing a noise on the veranda, he shot first and investigated afterward. The bullet struck Deitch in the right side, making an ugly wound, but one not likely to result fatally.

Silence Is Enjoined.
Washington, June 7.—Pending the decision of the czar regarding war or peace in the far East, the president and the European ambassadors with whom he is daily conferring, have agreed that silence regarding their activities is necessary and word to this effect has been passed along lest Russia take offense and go contrary to what the neutral powers believe to be for her own advantage.

READY FOR BATTLE.
General Linevitch Says Naval Defeat Doesn't Disturb Him.

Headquarters of the Russian Army, Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, June 7.—Undismayed by Rojostrensky's defeat, and full of confidence as to the outcome of the approaching battle, General Linevitch is for war to the bitter end, and he believes that the Manchurian army is now strong enough to assume the aggressive.

GENERAL LINEVITCH.

To a question put to him as to whether he was for war or peace, the commander-in-chief replied firmly and without the slightest hesitation: "Most certainly I am for war. I am a soldier. The emperor's will is naturally my law, but my voice now as before is for the continuance of the fight. With the destruction of our fleet vanishes, of course, the hopes of those who at the beginning of the war wished to make peace at Tokio, but our defeat at sea has not interfered with my plans—absolutely not one whit. I consider myself strong enough now not only to hold my ground, but even to advance."
"I am no prophet and have no desire to be one, but I firmly believe that I can and will defeat the Japanese in Manchuria."

Movement at the Front.
Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, June 7.—The Japanese appear to be withdrawing to the southward along their whole front. It is thought that this is perhaps a maneuver to entice Lieutenant General Linevitch from his prepared positions.

No Delay Allowed.
Washington, June 7.—In answer to an inquiry from Governor Wright at Manila, a cablegram has been sent through the bureau of insular affairs in which the president directs that the rule as to the twenty-four hour limit must be strictly observed, and that the Russian ships can only take on within that time sufficient coal and supplies to take them to the next port.

Wild Rumors Denied.
St. Petersburg, June 7.—Stories of an attempt to assassinate the emperor telegraphed back from abroad and spread throughout the city, are wholly without basis in fact. General Masloff, his majesty's chancellor, declares that absolutely nothing occurred at the Tsarskoe Selo to give rise to such reports.

Gully Resigns Speakership.

Indianapolis Wants Editors.
St. Louis, June 7.—Seven hundred members of the National Editorial association left here on two special trains for Guthrie, Okla., the convention city. An invitation will be extended to the association to meet next year in Indianapolis. All the delegates consulted thus far are inclined to favor Indianapolis, and the Hoosiers expect to win. Asbury Park is also a candidate. After the convention adjourns about 300 of the delegates will make a trip to Texas and California.

The Historic Hohenzollern Wedding
Torchlight Dance Concluded
the Ceremony.

Berlin, June 7.—Crown Prince Frederick William and Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin were married in the palace chapel late yesterday afternoon while the clock on the plaza marked five and batteries here and in every garrison town in Prussia and in every sea where German warships floated began firing a 21-gun salute at the same moment. In the chapel one of the most distinguished assemblages that could be gathered in Europe, saw the simple wedding service of the Lutheran church. They all stood in a wide circle around the altar, for there were no pews, and behind them without regard to rank were the members of the foreign embassies, the cabinet ministers, a number of admirals, the commanders of army corps and many persons of the high nobility.

The crown princess, for she was also crown princess by civil right, came in on the arm of the crown prince. She was wearing a wreath of fresh myrtle on her head, over which was a small crown of diamonds and rubies in a gold frame placed there by the empress. A triangle of diamonds rested on the front of her low-cut bodice, and around her neck was a necklace of large diamonds. The wedding dress was of Russian silver brocade with a train four and a half yards in length and two and a quarter yards wide attached to the shoulders. Four maids of honor in dresses of pale blue silk, the crown princess' favorite color, carried the train, and behind them walked two pages. The bridal veil was of old Brussels lace.

The crown prince wore the light blue uniform of the First footguards, with a major's insignia and his decorations. He carried his helmet in his hand.

Behind the bride and groom came the empress on the arm of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, brother of the bride, and the emperor with the Grand Duchess Anastasia, mother of the bride. Dr. Dryander, the court chaplain, with nine of the cathedral clergy standing near him, conducted the service, which lasted exactly twenty minutes.

The bridal party slowly moved out, followed by the princesses and princesses, but all others waited in the chapel, which had been very hot, owing to the 300 candles that had been burning for half an hour, until the reception began in the white hall adjoining the chapel. Besides those present at the wedding, several hundred others had been invited to the reception, each person bowing to the crown prince and crown princess, on either side of whom stood other royal personages. The dresses, jewels and uniforms contributed to a most brilliant picture.

After supper had been served a torchlight dance, a unique practice at weddings in the house of Hohenzollern for centuries, was performed in a modified form by twelve pages bearing thick candles about two and a half feet tall. The crown prince took the hand of the crown princess and walked slowly behind the pages, keeping step to the music, around a quadrangle formed by men and women standing ten deep along the sides of the drawing-room, which is 105 by 50 feet, all bowing as the bridal couple passed. The emperor then led the crown princess and the crown prince led his mother around the same walk. Next the crown princess took each of the other princesses and the crown prince each of the other princesses around the hall, occasionally several at a time, that the precedence might not be disregarded. Once the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, Crown Prince Gustaf of Sweden and the Duke of Oporto were walking with the crown princess at the same time, two on each side. This function came to a close after 8 o'clock, the wedding party having lasted more than four hours.

The honeymoon probably will be spent at Hubertusstock, a hunting lodge in a large forest near Eberswalde, Prussia. This is a simple sort of house in the woods where the emperor goes deer stalking.

Statesmen Forget Themselves.

Shelbyville Democrat: It seems that the troubles of the Arlington, Rush county, bank are not over. It was thought that the creditors had agreed to take so much money from Messrs. Goodrich and Jones the former owners. Goodrich paid in to the trustees the amount agreed upon, but Jones has not yet come up with the "dough." A delegation of the creditors went from Arlington to Rushville Monday, to consult their attorneys, and it is said that some of the creditors were in this city Monday evening, consulting with Prosecutor Bassett concerning criminal action.

IS SEEKING VINDICATION

The Schafer Case is Being Revived by a Damage Suit Against a Banker.

Bedford, Ind., June 7.—Suit for $100,000 has been filed in the Lawrence circuit court by S. B. Lowe against A. C. Voris, the Bedford banker, asking $100,000 damages. The complaint charges that Voris said S. B. Lowe was at Cross lanes at 1 o'clock at night in a buggy with Miss Eva Love on a certain night before the murder of Miss Sarah Schafer (Cross lanes is a country road crossing two miles south of Bedford); that this statement, taken in connection with false rumors current in Lawrence county during the last six months, amount to a charge of crime against Mr. Lowe, the plaintiff. The complaint alleges that the statement made by the defendant was wholly false and untrue, and that it was made for the injury of plaintiff.

The suit grows out of and is, in an indirect way, a result of the recent Schafer murder investigation. Mr. Lowe declined to make any statement for publication, except that he seeks vindication only and is not moved by any feeling of malice or ill-will against Mr. Voris.

MANY PEOPLE STARVED TO DEATH

Some Interesting Figures Compiled by the State Board of Health.

Indianapolis, June 7.—Dr. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, has gathered some very interesting vital statistics showing that 306 people starved to death in Indiana last year, notwithstanding the bounteous supply of foodstuffs on every hand. The total number of deaths from accident was 2,159, an increase of 30 per cent over the average for the last five years. There were 283 suicides, 132 by poison, 26 by shooting, 39 by hanging and 16 by drowning. The death rate from pneumonia was 140.7, an increase of 40 per cent over the preceding year. The total number of deaths from this disease alone was 3,725. Dr. Hurty says there is no explanation for it, but that the result is appalling. There has been a steady decrease in the number of deaths from diphtheria, but the number of cases is about the same. The people, Dr. Hurty says, are bent on the cure and not on methods of prevention of disease.

The Vice President at Flint.
 Indianapolis, June 7.—Vice President Fairbanks and the members of his family who accompanied him to Portland, Ore., a few days ago to be present when he formally opened the Lewis and Clarke exposition, will return to Indianapolis tomorrow or next day. The vice president has accepted invitations to deliver a number of speeches within the next few weeks. He will be busier than usual during his summer vacation. Most of the time he is not filling engagements to speak, he will be in Indianapolis or at his farm near Mansfield, Ill.

To the People of Indiana.

The time has come to erect a suitable monument to the memory of the great War Governor of the State, Oliver P. Morton. The legislature has appropriated $35,000 and authorized the Board consisting of Warren R. King, Joseph I. Irvin, E. B. Martindale, Henry C. Adams and Isaac H. C. Royse, to raise an additional sum by private subscriptions and they are anxious to receive such donations. In order that every person contributing to this fund may have themselves a memorial, the Board has prepared an engraved certificate, 10x14 inches, with a fine portrait of Gov. Morton in the centre, which will be sent to every person sending one dollar or more to the fund. Every home in Indiana should be adorned with one of these certificates, and nothing could be more appropriate in the home of a civil war veteran, than a portrait of Gov. Morton, who was in deed as well as word, the soldier's friend.
